VINYL FLOORING

Why vinyl flooring?

We've been making vinyl flooring since 1997 and know a thing or two about beautiful floors that are comfortable, quiet and easy. Vinyl flooring is more relevant than ever; we've summarized why in 6 reasons.

Contemporary natural design

We've made sure vinyl flooring has the best in contemporary natural design. Whether a classic oak herringbone, limestone slab, ceramic tile or a modern poured and polished concrete; there's a choice for everyone. And with our mechanical emboss for realistic texture, they feel just as good as they look.

Happier feet

Thanks to the different layers, vinyl flooring gives a warm and soft feeling. Shocks are better absorbed, resulting in a sense of well-being when walking on the floor with your bare feet. Vinyl flooring is therefore perfect for bath- and bedrooms. Warmer and more comfortable to walk on, vinyl flooring make for happier feet.

Peace and silence

Vinyl flooring with its different foamed layers is a winner when it comes to sound. It stops noise travelling through the floor and has the right quality to soften the volume of music, fun and laughter. Muting the sound of footsteps, vinyl flooring is perfect for more peace and silence in your home.

A floor for every home and budget

We've made sure that the whole collection delivers a quality floor finish that's packed with great features. No matter how big or small the budget, there's an option that's the right value. Our original designs can be found right across the range, as we think that you shouldn't have to compromise on style.

Cleaning's a breeze

Vinyl flooring retains all the benefits of a floor free from joints and cracks where dirt can build up, that's water-resistant and easier to sweep, mop or vacuum than carpet or wood.

Quick & easy installation

Vinyl flooring is reliably fast to install thanks to its glass fibre, in every condition and climate. Semi-loose lay is the installation method that is most commonly used in residential areas, which is a hassle-free set-up that doesn't require glue.

Textile backed

Standard vinyl flooring is known for its natural designs and great comfort, so what makes textile backed vinyl flooring so special?

Well, with the extra textile layer all the benefits are amplified, making this flooring the best way to enjoy floors that are silent, comfortable, warm and easy to look after. What's even more, textile backed vinyl flooring can be installed without glue on an even bigger surface than the standard one, plus it's ideal for renovation projects since it evens out irregularities in the subfloor.

> The extra mile towards even greater comfort and convenience.

Comfort

With the extra insulation coming from the textile backing, heat is better retained, and shocks are better absorbed, resulting in a sense of well-being when walking on the floor with your bare feet. Warmer and more comfortable to walk on, textile backed sheet vinyl floors make for happier feet.

Acoustics

The combination of the textile backing and dense compact foam layer is a winner when it comes to sound. It's a pairing that stops noise travelling through the floor and which has the right quality to soften the volume of music, fun and laughter. Muting the sound of footsteps , textile backed vinyl flooring is perfect for more peace and silence in your home.

Installation

Thanks to the extra textile layer, lumps and bumps in the sub floor are smoothed out, saving you time and costs in installation. The textile backed vinyl floor can be installed easily on an existing floor of tiles or planks. If your room is smaller than 40m² you don't need to glue it down, saving you time and costs. The tear resistance is superior because of the extra textile layer, which is an extra advantage during installation. The textile layer also improves the dimensional stability, which ensures your floor will stay rock solid in every climate.

Layers

Vinyl flooring is built up in different layers, that each have a benefit in terms of quality or design.

1

PU lacquer: protection from scratches, stains and dirt

An extra polyurethane (PU) protective layer improves scratch and stain resistance. Fighting off the spills and accidents of family life and completely pet-proof, it enhances the everyday performance and makes the floor a breeze to clean.

2

Structured emboss: a natural look with excellent grip

An embossing roller applies a natural wood or stone structure to the hardwearing surface for a more natural appearance. The structured emboss also gives vinyl flooring better slip-resistance, making it perfect for barefoot or busy areas.

3

Wear layer: durability for a lasting family floor

Made in-house for the best in reliability and quality, the PVC wear layer makes sure the floor is ready to last.

4

Pattern: contemporary natural design

This layer is where we bring contemporary natural designs to life. The process is in-house from start to finish for original designs that are printed with eco-friendly inks. We use multiple cylinders for a more detailed and refined design.

5

Print layer: for sharper design

This second PVC layer is applied to smooth out the stabilising glass fibre beneath and to provide a finish that's perfect for creating high-quality designs with high definition.

6

Impregnation layer: enhanced

Permeating through the glass fibre in a process that's similar to reinforced concrete, the impregnation layer adds dimensional stability.

Glass fibre: strength and stability

Glass fibre brings strength and stability to the construction, giving the advantage that you don't need expansion gaps. Preventing contraction, expansion, cracking and curling, it ensures the floor stays where it should. Important when it comes to rapid temperature changes such as those experienced in holiday homes or recreational vehicles.

8

PVC backing: versatility in performance

This waterproof PVC backing layer is available in different specifications so we can tweak the performance of the floor: super-strong compactback, powerback for impact resistance or thermoback for better thermal insulation.

9*

Textile backing: easier installation and more comfort

Last but certainly not least, the high quality textile backing is adding many advantages such as evening out irregularities in the subfloor, saving time and costs, giving you a better acoustic and thermal insulation, and it can be installed semi-loose lay in even bigger areas than the standard sheet vinyl.

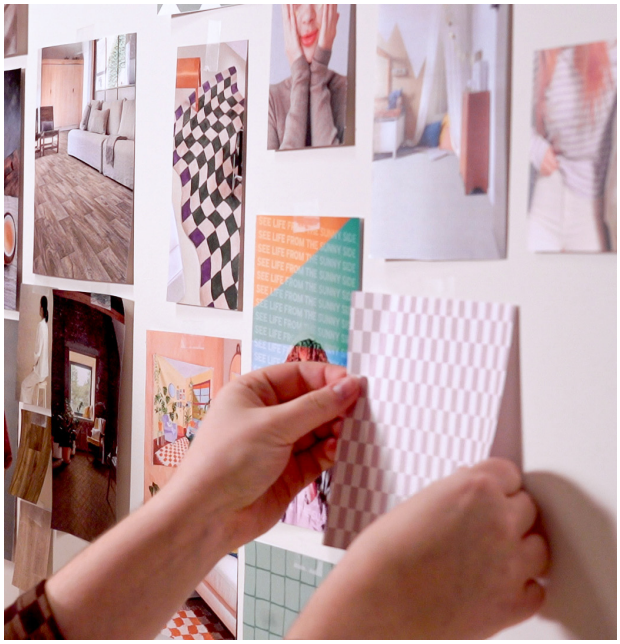
Design & development



Our Design & Development departments - based in Belgium - pay great attention to creating and developing new colours, designs and qualities; ensuring your vinyl flooring is made with an eye for detail.

When you know just what it takes to create a new floor, from the research for a new design to testing and production, you'll be amazed to learn that every year our design & production experts are responsible for around 25-30 new designs. That keeps us ahead of the latest home interior trends. So whether you're hunting for cool concrete or a worn wood, there's a vinyl floor ready and waiting.

It all starts with an authentic material, such as a piece of reclaimed timber, ceramic tile or stone slab; or with a rising trend spotted at an international design fair. From these originals our designers analyse every last detail, recreating imperfections to bring true-to-life designs that can be perfectly translated in comfortable vinyl flooring for your home.

Working in parallel, our engineers work intensively to refine function, developing innovations that improve every aspect of the floor. At every layer they are looking for marginal improvements. From easy-to-clean matt finishes for a more authentic look, through to backings that can absorb more noise or boost impact recovery, we believe taking care of the details will always make a better floor.

With more than 400 designs across our collections, spanning everything from timeless woods and classic ceramics to modernist terrazzo, there's care and attention evident in every vinyl flooring.

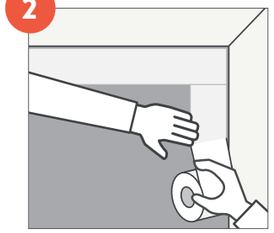
Installation & maintenance instructions

In this visual installation guide we are showing the semi-loose lay installation, which is the most common and DIY-friendly installation method for vinyl flooring:

1

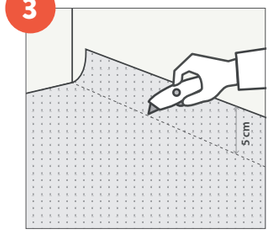
A simple utility knife and Xtrafloor® Velcro Tape or regular double-sided tape is all you need.

2



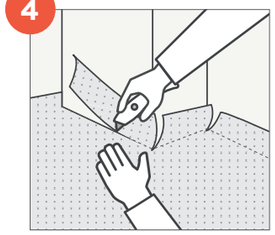
Apply Xtrafloor Velcro Tape or appropriate double sided tape to the perimeter of the area. Xtrafloor Velcro Tape has the advantage of easy repositioning of the vinyl flooring, double side tape is almost impossible to reposition. If using double sided tape, leave the protective foil in position for the time being (install one wall at a time).

3



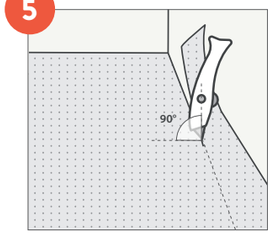
Line up the cut vinyl to your selected starting wall. The material is laid with the 5 cm over-cut running up the walls, ensuring that the pattern runs parallel to the wall.

4



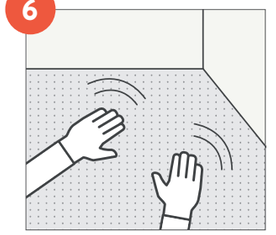
Push the vinyl into the joint between the wall and floor with a straight edge and neatly cut off excess material around the edges of the room in small strips at a time, gradually working the material down to the floor keeping the blade tight against the skirting board.

5



Always hold the knife perpendicular to the floor to keep a straight cut finish. Ensure the product is free of tension (there may be 1mm of give).

6



Avoid bubbles, compressions and tensions. To remove any bubbles, rubbing from the inside out should even out the floor.

Cleaning & maintenance

Although vinyl flooring is easy to look after, it makes sense to make sure you care for it in the right way so that it can continue to give you years of style and comfort. The frequency of maintenance will depend on how busy your home is, the room where vinyl flooring is installed and on the outside conditions. For example, a hallway in winter will require more regular maintenance than a bathroom or bedroom in summer.

Our premium vinyl flooring is equipped with wa PU lacquer, a specially developed, permanent coating that makes it easier to remove stains and marks with normal household cleaning methods. Our PU lacquer is a permanent part of vinyl flooring that will last your floor's lifetime.

Ensuring your vinyl flooring is kept free from dirt and soil and that spills are immediately wiped away, is all that's required to keep your vinyl flooring looking good.

- Regular vacuuming, dry mopping or sweeping to remove dirt.
- Remove spots and stains with a damp cloth and Moduleo® Spot Cleaner.
- Occasionally clean with a damp mop and diluted Moduleo® Intensive Cleaner.
- Do not use detergents such as dish washing detergent or soap as they will leave a film residue.

Prevention is better than cure

There are different ways of protecting your vinyl flooring from possible damage caused by dirt or heavy objects.

At all external entrances you should use a suitable entrance mat that is regularly cleaned to remove dirt. Avoid rubber and latex-backed mats as these will permanently discolour vinyl flooring.

The feet of furniture should be fitted with good quality felt pads and castor cups should be used under all castors. Felt pads will help to prevent scratches while castor cups will prevent pressure spots and prevent scratches or marks from rubber wheels. Avoid the use of rubber furniture feet as these will discolour your vinyl flooring.
